To whom it may concern

Secom Plc and Guardian Safety Systems have worked as business partners in the UK for approximately ten (10) years.

Our relationship started with the design, installation and maintenance of Guardian Infra red Staff Attack systems with the UK Home Office National Offender Management Service (NOMS) we have successfully installed in excess of 150 systems throughout this estate.

Due to the high quality of the product and the very little if any product failure in service, we have made the Guardian product our preferred staff attack system which we have since installed in local authority and Healthcare establishment, our UK Managing Director Mr Minoru Takezawa personally endorsed the Guardian system and we have installed such a system in the UK Japanese School and also discussed the product with the Embassy of Japan.

I cannot endorse the Guardian product more favourably; it is high quality, flexible, very engineer and user friendly, robust, efficient and also very cost effective.

I can be contacted here in the UK at any time for further reference.
